The people whom they have swindled and betrayed are entitled to a full exhibit of their nefarious transactions. All good citizens are interested in having the veil lifted from the records of those secret organizations, which have played such a prominent part in the agitation for home rule in Ireland. The cause that has thus been turned to base account will not suffer by reason of the publication of the sins of its false and despicable representatives. It is still true that the people of Ireland deserve sympathy and assistance in their distress; and help will not be withheld because trusted agents have proved to be treacherous alike to a good cause and to the thousands sincere and worthy citizens whose contributions have been filched and squandered. But it will not benefit Ireland to have this inquiry stifled or in any degree curtailed. The matter is one that admits of no concealment and no palliation. All true friends of that wronged and suffering country are bound to insist upon a thorough probing of the whole miserable business of the theft and perfiley; and it is to be hoped that the officers of the law appreciate the imiter fairs and festival. THE BLACKSMITH IN DANGER. lis Occupation in Danger of Extincted The sphere of the blacksmith has of ate years been gradually but surely narrowing down, says the New York Mail and Express, and it now begins to look as if his occupation would soon be gone. Once he had to make horse shoes, horse nails, and sometimes part of his simpler tools; now these are all manufactured by machinery. They constitutes eparate and independent branches of business and are furnished ready made to the hand of the smith far better, cheaper, and more serviceable than they could be made in his shop. The last innovation, however, by which he is threatened is the most serious of all. A system of adjustable horseshoes without nails is to be introduced into England. Capable veterianry surgeons have estimated that twenty-five in every 1,000 horses in England die some ten years before their time as a result of lockjaw or some other damage inflicted in the process of shoeing. The light shoes and dainty nails of the American blacksmiths are the wonder and derision of the English farriers, who regard these articles as mere toys compared with their own. The Business Outlook Chleago Tribune of June 10. An absence of important develop-ments in general trade at this season of the year is the best news that can be looked for. June and July are mouths for preparation, and any incidents at-tracting much attention are pretty cer-tain to be unfavorable ones. If prices budd their own for two months, and if hold their own for two months, and it there are no large and unsettling failures, the general business situation will be susceptible of quick and great improvement in the fall. The indications now are certainly favorable. The volume of trade for this season of the year is large. The iron market is in a healthier condition than it was a week ago, and slight advances have been made ago, and slight advances have been made in prices. Part of this improvement is accidental, undoubtedly, being due to the demand for material to replace prop-erty destroyed by the Pennsylvania dead by the Pennsylvania flood; but many encouraging orders have been received which bespeak a broader general demand. Eastern mills have sold some 40,000 tons of steel rails at an advance of fifty cents per ton, but the orders for 25,000 tons were old, hav-ing simply been transferred from the ruined works at Cambria.

Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea-the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for chil-Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osooon

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real rest of their children, and use Castoria ininterest of their ciniaren, and use Casioria in-stead of the various quack nestrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing oplum, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
